Residence halls
Students who want to have a traditional on-campus living experience will want to apply for a residence hall room. The residence halls operate on an agreement that runs from September 23, 2020, (right before autumn quarter starts) to June 13, 2021 (when spring quarter ends). If you are assigned after the September start date, you can move in later, and your charges will begin then.

Apartments
For students who are seeking a more independent experience or who need year-round housing, our apartments are a good choice. The apartment agreement goes from September 13, 2020, through August 22, 2021, or if you are assigned after the agreement begins, your charges will begin as of that date.

Family housing
Family Housing is for married students and/or students with children. Family Housing apartments are month-to-month agreements. You move in after you are assigned and terminate your agreement when you need to.
No matter where you live on the University of Washington (UW) campus, you’ll make new friends and have access to social events, learning opportunities and the academic and emotional support that make the Husky Experience your own unique adventure. During the application process you will be asked your preferences for:

- Which building, bathroom type and type of room you prefer
- If you are interested in a Living Learning Community
- If you are interested in gender-inclusive or Winter Break housing
- Your choice of roommate (if you have one)

Then during your room selection time, you will search for available rooms that meet your needs, and assign yourself (and your requested roommate, if you have one). More information about room selection is on page 16 of this guide.

Once you move in, you’ll see that your room is only a small part of your life at the UW. Between classes, studying, friends and activities, there are dozens of places you’ll be throughout your day. Even if you don’t get your first choice, your Husky Experience can still be rich and fulfilling—and you may find that your circle grows larger and more interesting!

The range of price points and room types gives flexibility for our students’ diverse budgets and lifestyles, and the UW is committed to keeping housing costs as low as possible while providing students with their expectation of a modern living environment.
MOST COMMON ROOM TYPES AND RATES

Double rooms are the most common type of units within our residence halls.

</tr>
<tr>
<td>Newer Double, Private Bathroom</td>
<td>$3,511</td>
<td>$10,533</td>
</tr>
</tbody>

If you aren’t assigned to a double room, it is likely you will be assigned to a space in a triple room.

As a self-supporting department of the UW, Housing & Food Services (HFS) relies upon your housing and dining payments to provide the funding for the living facilities and food choices we provide you, and allows us to include utilities and things like high-speed Internet and access to Area 01 and The MILL as part of living with us.

Bathrooms

Legacy Community Bathrooms, Hansee Hall: Single-gender shared facilities with private toilet stalls and curtained shower areas.

Newer Community Bathrooms, Madrona Hall: Some rooms in Madrona Hall share community bathrooms. Each toilet stall and shower stall in the community bathrooms is enclosed within floor-to-ceiling walls with lockable doors.

Private Bathrooms: Most rooms in the newer buildings and a few in the legacy buildings have private in-room or in-apartment bathrooms.
Before you begin your housing application, it’s important to consider the following options and opportunities.

- Most residence halls are closed during winter break.
- Winter Break goes from noon on Saturday, December 19, 2020, through noon on Saturday, January 2, 2021.
- You may request assignment to a room that is open for winter break on your housing application.

Note: HFS cannot guarantee placement in a room that is open for Winter Break.

RESIDENCE HALLS THAT STAY OPEN OVER WINTER BREAK
- Lander Hall
- Mercer Court
- Stevens Court
- Willow Hall

All residence halls are open during spring break.

Gender-inclusive rooms

It is important to us that all University housing options are welcoming for all students. The gender-inclusive room option is intended to provide a welcoming and supportive environment for residents across the spectrum of gender identity, gender expression, biological sex, and sexual identity, and allied members of the community.

Because of our strong commitment to inclusivity and safety in these spaces, we have high standards for students interested in living in gender-inclusive rooms to demonstrate their understanding of gender and what it means to be specifically aware of the needs of:
- Students in the process of discovering their gender identity
- Students who are transitioning from one gender to another
- Students who do not wish to identify themselves by sex or gender identity
- Students who identify as outside of the gender binary
- Students whose gender identity is fluid
- Students who do not conform to society's expectations to their gender assigned at birth (gender nonconforming)

While gender-inclusive rooms are open to any student, only students who agree to fully support the commitment AND demonstrate a strong understanding of gender will be assigned to a gender-inclusive room.

If you request this housing option you will be asked to complete a statement of commitment available at the end of this application.
Living Learning Communities

Any student choosing to live in a residence hall can select a Living Learning Community during the housing application process. Business, Engineering and Honors communities are linked to academic programs, and students with UW departmental approval will have priority for these living areas.

As a member of a Living Learning Community, you’ll have unique opportunities to engage with faculty and community leaders and learn through experience. Living Learning Communities offer a broad range of events tailored to the exploration of your interests.

COMMUNITIES
- Arts (Oak Hall, 5th floor)
- Business (McCarty Hall, 3rd floor)
- Engineering (Maple Hall, 5th–8th floors)
- Global Experience (Poplar Hall, 3rd floor)
- Honors (Terry Hall, 3rd–5th floors)
- Pre-Health Sciences (Alder Hall, 5th–7th floors)

Considering Greek Life

Many students choose to join sororities or fraternities instead of living in the residence halls, and most of them participate in the formal recruitment held yearly in mid-September. To learn more about the Greek formal recruitment process, please visit uwgreeks.com.

PANHELLENIC AND HFS

If you are a new freshman or transfer student who signs up for sorority recruitment by August 15:
- You do not need to submit a housing application.
- If you do submit a housing application, HFS will cancel it and refund your $500 deposit.

If you are a continuing student or a returning resident, you must cancel your own application, and you will be charged the regular cancellation rate.

INTERFRATERNITY COUNCIL AND HFS

If you are a new freshman or transfer student who joins a fraternity by August 31:
- You do not need to submit a housing application.
- If you do submit a housing application, HFS will cancel it and refund your $500 deposit.

If you are a continuing student or a returning resident you must cancel your own application, and you will be charged the regular cancellation rate.
DINING ACCOUNT

Our dining account plans are flexible, convenient, easy to manage and a great value. Because all food purchases are à la carte, you can build your meals around your own eating habits.

You may be required to have a dining plan unless you live in Mercer Court, Stevens Court or a studio apartment, where the dining account is optional. Both North Campus and West Campus have primary dining venues, Center Table and Local Point, to serve residents.

How Your Dining Account Works

Each time you make a purchase, the amount is deducted from your dining account balance. Your remaining balance is displayed on the cash register when you make a purchase so you always know your balance. You can also track your dining account online.

WHERE YOUR DINING ACCOUNT IS ACCEPTED

You can use your dining account at any HFS location and most on-campus vending machines. There are no set meal periods. If the location is open, you can eat there using your dining account.

Dining levels

Choose the dining level that meets your needs. At the beginning of each quarter, the amount you chose is loaded into your Dining Account for you to spend. Quarterly payments are based on 11 weeks.

Dining Account balance

Your unused Dining Account balance rolls over from quarter to quarter along with your quarterly allotment until the end of your agreement period on June 12, 2021. Dining funds are nonrefundable and nontransferable. We recommend that you monitor your account to avoid having a balance left over at the end of the academic year.
FINDING A ROOMMATE

You are not required to find your own roommate; however, if you would like to, please consider the following resources:

- Roommate Finder Message Board
- For members of the LGBTQIA+ communities, the Q Center’s Queer-Positive Roommate Message Board

If you don't find a roommate on your own, we will assign one or more for you.

Requesting a specific roommate

You may request a specific roommate on your application. Your request will be accommodated if:

- Both applicants are of the same gender*
- Both applications have identical preferences
- Both applicants have the same assignment priority
- Space is available

Note: If you want to request a specific roommate on your housing application, you will need their UW student ID number. We cannot guarantee requested roommates will be assigned together.

Except as required by law, assignments to UW housing facilities provided for students are made without regard to race, color, creed, religion, national origin, age, disability, sexual orientation, gender identity or expression, or military status.

*Students who request a gender-inclusive room will be assigned with another student who has requested the same.

HOW TO APPLY TO LIVE IN A RESIDENCE HALL

1. Set up your UW NetID and email account
   The information required for setup is included with your UW offer of admission. Complete this step at least five days before you apply for housing.

2. Fill out your HFS student profile
   Go to the MyHFS homepage.
   Your profile determines what housing you are eligible for and uploads your application on the appropriate date.
   While you are waiting for your housing application to open, here are a few things you can do:
   • Add hfsinfo@uw.edu to your email contacts
   • Read the Housing Agreement
   • Determine if you want to participate in Early Fall Start
   • Plan your budget for the upcoming year
   • Investigate personal property insurance options
   • Read about Greek chapter recruitment
   • Learn about campus disability accommodations

3. Complete your housing application
   Return to the MyHFS homepage.
   When your application is available you will see it listed on your home page. You are now ready to complete your housing application.
   What you will be asked for when applying:
   • Your building preferences
   • Your room type preferences
   • What method you will use to pay your quarterly housing and dining balance

YOU WILL ALSO NEED TO
• Roommate request (You will need to provide their UW student ID number.)
• A particular housing option or Living Learning Community requests
• Your dining level choice

A $500 refundable deposit is required for on-campus housing. Paying the deposit is the last step in submitting your application. Some students with financial need may submit the application without a deposit and pay it later.

Note: Changes to your application preferences can be made through June 8.
We will notify you of your room selection appointment time in mid-June. During your appointment time, you will log in, search for available rooms that meet your criteria, and assign yourself. If you have a mutually requested roommate, you can also assign that person to the room with you.

To select a room, you can search online for available rooms and make your own assignment for next year.

Room selection process

- Search for your room based on your choice of building, Living Learning Community and/or room type.
- You may choose to assign your mutually requested roommates with you, provided they are not already assigned.

CHANGING YOUR ROOM CHOICE

- You may search and select as many times as you like during your selection period.
- You can only change your own assignment, not the assignment of your mutually requested roommates.

MUTUALLY REQUESTED ROOMMATES

- You will only be given search results for areas that you are both eligible for and that you both have selected as preferences.
- If your roommates aren’t eligible for the area you are trying to assign yourself to, you will not be given any search results.
- If one of the mutually requested roommates is a smoker, the group can only be assigned together if all other members selected smoker or no preference on the application.

PAIR AND GROUP ASSIGNMENTS

A pair or group is comprised of yourself and one or more other students. You may assign yourself and one or more other people as long as:

- The other person is not already assigned; and
- All group members enter the UW student ID numbers of all other members on the application; and
- All group members are eligible to live in the area selected; and
- All preferences (e.g., smoking, Living Learning Community) match those selected by all other group members. It is very important that everyone in the group you want to live with is mutually requested. Each group member must request all of the other group members for the system to recognize and process the request. If all requests do not match, the group assignment will not be accepted.

Roommate requests must be made using UW student ID numbers, not names. Be sure to have the UW student ID numbers of all students you want to be assigned with before you submit your application.

Applicants who apply with a group of two or more will be able to assign their entire group of mutually requested roommates. The first group member to select online may assign everyone to an available room, cluster or apartment; however, they will not be able to designate which room within a cluster or apartment is assigned to each person.

If, after being assigned by a group member, you wish to adjust your individual assignment within a cluster or apartment, you will have the opportunity to make your request by completing an online request. Details will be emailed to you after room selection ends.
If you can't find available space

- If one of the mutually requested roommates is a smoker, the group can only be assigned together if all other members selected smoker or no preference on the application.
- All members of the group must have selected the same Living Learning Community preference.

Room selection tips

- For the best chance of assigning yourself to one of your preferred rooms, log in to the room selection website as soon as you can after your appointment time begins.
- We cannot accommodate requests for earlier appointments based on schedule conflicts. If you do not select a room before August 9, HFS will assign you based on the preferences you express in your application. You will still have the option to change your assignment before your selection period ends.
- Have a backup plan. If there isn't space available in your preferred building, room or apartment type, what are your other choices?

Confirmation of your assignment

Assignment confirmations will be emailed after room selection ends. Please contact us if you have any questions.

CANCELLATION CHARGES

If you decide to cancel your application and assignment, you’ll be charged based on the date you submit your notice.

APARTMENT TYPES

UW apartments provide the opportunity to plug directly into the Husky community while minimizing the distractions of everyday life so you can focus on your studies. The apartment agreement goes from September 23, 2020, through August 21, 2021. If you are assigned after the September start date, you can move in later and just pay for the time you live on campus.

For students who are seeking more independence or who need year-round housing, the apartments are a good choice.

SINGLE ROOM
- Private room for one person within a shared apartment
- Shared living room, full kitchen and (usually) two shared bathrooms
- Charged at the single room rate, based on apartment type and location

STUDIO
- Private apartment for one person
- Kitchenette and private bathroom
- Charged at the studio rate, based on location

ONE-BEDROOM APARTMENT
- Private apartment for one person
- Kitchen and private bathroom
- Charged at the one-bedroom apartment rate, based on location

The range of price points and room types gives flexibility for our students’ diverse budgets and lifestyles. We are committed to keeping housing costs as low as possible while providing students with their expectation of a modern living environment.

Our nonprofit mission means our rates are based on what it costs to operate our buildings, not what the market can bear like many off-campus apartments.

Single rooms in 4-bedroom apartments are the most common type of units within our apartment communities. Rates vary based on the building and apartment type.
1. Set up your UW NetID and email account
The information required for setup is included with your UW offer of admission.
Complete this step at least five days before you apply for housing.

2. Fill out your HFS student profile

3. Complete your housing application
Return to the MyHFS homepage.
When your application is available you will see it listed on your home page. You are now ready to complete your housing application.
The Apartment Dining Account is designed to simplify your life. Choose from ten different dining levels or none at all. You can select a dining level that covers most or all of your eating expenses or just acts as a supplement to your food budget. Select the level that works for you.

How the Apartment Dining Account works

The Apartment Dining Account works like a prepaid debit card. At the beginning of each quarter the amount you chose is loaded into your account for you to spend. Each time you make a purchase, the amount is deducted from your dining account balance. Your remaining balance is displayed on the cash register when you make a purchase so you can easily track your balance. You can also manage your dining account online.

Unused account balance

Your unused account balance rolls over from quarter to quarter until the end of your agreement period on August 21, 2021. Dining funds are nonrefundable and nontransferable. We recommend you monitor and adjust your dining level each quarter to avoid having a balance left over at the end of the academic year.
Finding apartmentmates

You are not required to find your own apartmentmates; however, if you would like to, please consider the following resources:

- Roommate Finder Message Board
- For members of the LGBTQIA+ communities, the Q Center’s Queer-Positive Roommate Message Board

Requesting a specific apartmentmate

You may request a specific apartmentmate on your application. When you select your room, you will be able to assign your requested apartmentmate as long as:

- The request is mutual
- The person is not already assigned and is eligible for the apartment being selected
- Space is available

Note: If you are requesting a specific apartmentmate on your housing application, you will need their UW student number. If you do not specify an apartmentmate, you will be assigned one or more.

Except as required by law, assignments to UW housing facilities provided for students are made without regard to race, color, creed, religion, national origin, age, disability, sexual orientation, gender identity or expression, or military status.
Most applicants will be able to select their own apartments. HFS will email you with your selection time. Once the apartments are mainly full, we will assign later applicants based on their stated preferences to available spaces.

SELECTING A ROOM

We will notify you of your room selection appointment time in late-May. During your appointment time, you will log in, search for available rooms that meet your criteria, and assign yourself. If you have a mutually requested roommate, you can also assign that person to the room with you.

To select a room, you can search online for available rooms and make your own assignment for next year.

Room selection process

- Search for your room based on your choice of Living Learning Community and/or room type choice.
- You may choose to assign your mutually requested apartmentmates with you, provided they are not already assigned.

CHANGING YOUR ROOM CHOICE

- You may search and select as many times as you like during your selection period.
- You can only change your own assignment, not the assignment of your mutually requested apartmentmates.

MUTUALLY REQUESTED APARTMENTMATES

- You will only be given search results for areas that you are both eligible for and that you both have selected as preferences.
- If your apartmentmates aren't eligible for the area you are trying to assign yourself to, you will not be given any search results.

PAIR AND GROUP ASSIGNMENTS

A pair or group is comprised of yourself and one or more other students. You may assign yourself and one or more other people as long as:

- The other person is not already assigned; and
- All group members enter the UW student numbers of all other members on the application; and
- All group members are eligible to live in the area selected.

Apartmentmate requests must be made using UW student numbers, not names. Be sure to have the UW student numbers of all students you want to be assigned with before you submit your application.

Applicants who apply with a group of two or more will be able to assign their entire group of mutually requested apartmentmates. The first group member to select online may assign everyone to an available room, cluster or apartment; however, they will not be able to designate which room within an apartment is assigned to each person.

If, after being assigned by a group member, you wish to adjust your individual assignment within an apartment, you will have the opportunity to make your request by completing an online request. Details will be emailed to you after room selection ends.

Room selection tips

- For the best chance of assigning yourself to one of your preferred rooms, log in to the room selection website as soon as you can after your appointment time begins.
- We cannot accommodate requests for earlier appointments based on schedule conflicts.
- Have a backup plan. If there isn’t space available in your preferred building, room or apartment type, what are your other choices?

Confirmation of your assignment

Assignment confirmations will be emailed after room selection ends. Please contact us if you have any questions.
If you decide to cancel your application and assignment, you'll be charged based on the date you submit your notice.

FAMILY HOUSING
Life in UW Family Housing has so much to offer. Besides the convenience of living close to classes and campus resources, you will have opportunities to participate in a variety of social and educational programs, meet people of different cultures and backgrounds, make lifelong friends, have fun and help influence the character of your living environment.

Family Housing at the UW is for registered full-time students at the Seattle campus who want to live with their family in on-campus housing. In this context, family is defined as a married couple, with or without children. Same-sex domestic partnerships are accepted from jurisdictions that do not allow same-sex marriage.

All apartments, common areas, balconies and public spaces in Family Housing are smoke-free including outside areas or locations that are near the air supply of residential buildings.
1. Set up your UW NetID and email account
The information required for set-up is included with your UW offer of admission. Complete this step at least five days before you apply for housing.

2. Fill out your HFS student profile
Go to the MyHFS homepage.
Your profile determines your eligible housing and uploads your application on the appropriate date.
While you are waiting for your housing application to open, here are a few things you can do:
- Add hfsinfo@uw.edu to your email contacts
- Read the Housing Agreement
- Submit your FAFSA, it could affect your waiting list position
- Investigate personal property insurance options
- Learn about campus disability accommodations

3. Complete your housing application
Return to the MyHFS homepage.
When your application is available you will see it listed on your home page. You are now ready to complete your housing application.

Family housing waiting list
- Your waiting list position will be based on your assignment priority, registration status and application date.
- Waiting list positions are updated each Wednesday by 5 p.m.
- Waiting list positions do change regularly, but they may change depending on the students currently on the waiting list.
- The average waiting list time is 6–36 months.
- You will be contacted periodically by email to confirm your continuing interest in an assignment in Family Housing.

Getting an assignment
- When an apartment is available for you, you will be contacted by email.
- You may accept the offer, defer your application to a later date, or reject the offer and cancel your application.
- When you accept an offer, you will be asked to pay a refundable $300 deposit and electronically sign the Family Housing agreement.

Terms of application
- By submitting an application, you are requesting to be placed on the Family Housing waiting list.
- Your application will not be considered complete until you have paid the $25 nonrefundable application charge and have completed the family member information on your Application and Assignment home page.
- You may cancel your application as long as you have not checked in.
HFS adheres to the UW's Reasonable Accommodation of Students with Disabilities policy, which is in compliance with Title II of the Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA) of 1990 as amended; the Rehabilitation Act of 1973 (P.L. 93-11) and 45 C.F.R. Part 84; Fair Housing Act of 1968 42 U.S.C. Sec. 3601 et seq., Chapter 49.60 RCW; and Chapter 28B.10 RCW.

Students with individual accommodation, accessibility or dietary needs will follow the same housing application process as all students to apply for UW housing. In addition, the student will then register with UW's Disability Resources for Students (DRS) by the deadline shown below.

If the disability or need requires some accommodation (e.g., accessible shower, visual fire alarm, single room, therapy animal) in order to create equal access to the living facility and/or program, the student will then register with DRS and provide documentation to support the accommodation request. DRS will review the documentation provided and determine what accommodations are reasonable for HFS to provide. Information about housing assistance provided by DRS is available at Disability Resources for Students—Housing. DRS can be contacted at 206-543-8924 (V)/206-543-8925 (TTY) or uwdrs@u.washington.edu.

Requests for housing accommodation received by DRS after the deadline will be accepted and processed and, if approved, DRS will notify the HFS Student Services Office in writing of any approved housing accommodation. Late requests will be accommodated as soon as space becomes available, but there is no guarantee that the accommodation will be provided for the requested quarter.

Family Housing applicants with a disabled family member may follow the same guidelines for application and registration with DRS.
