You’ve just received your University of Washington (UW) housing assignment and have many questions. You can start finding answers by looking at the web page for your building. There you can take a virtual tour, view a floor plan, and get information about the furnishings included.

We recommend you coordinate with your roommates so you don’t bring duplicates of larger items. The less you bring, the more space you’ll have in your room.

You should bring

- Bedsheets (extra-long twin)
- Pillows and pillowcases
- Blankets and comforter
- Towels
- Alarm clock
- Ethernet cable
- Study lamps (LED)
- Surge protector and extension cord
- Residents in apartments should bring kitchen supplies (i.e., pots, pans, utensils)
- A Wi-Fi router if you live in Hansee Hall, Haggett Hall or McMahon Hall (Note: Wi-Fi routers are not allowed in other buildings)

Appliances you can bring

- Refrigerators 4.4 cubic feet or less
- Television (If you live in McCarty Hall, Madrona Hall or Willow Hall, you will need an internet-ready Smart TV or Roku streaming player to use the HuskyTV service)
- Blenders and mixers
- Hot-air popcorn poppers
- Rice cookers
- Hot pots and coffeepots, which must be placed on noncombustible surfaces such as ceramic tile
- Enclosed coil grills (panini-sandwich type)
- One 700-watt maximum microwave oven per room (no other appliance may be used at the same time)

Examples of prohibited items

- Halogen lamps
- Space heaters
- All open-flame appliances (e.g., fondue pots)
- Open-coil appliances (e.g., toasters, toaster ovens)
- Full-size appliances
- Multiple appliances that exceed the usage limits of your room

See the housing agreement for details on what is prohibited.

Refrigerators and microwave ovens

You may rent a small micro-fridge (microwave oven and refrigerator) from Collegiate Concepts Inc. (CCI). Arrangements for payment and delivery may be made directly with CCI. Complete information is provided on their website. Alternatively, you may choose to bring your own refrigerator (4.4 cubic feet or less) or microwave oven (700 watt maximum), one per room. We recommend that you coordinate with your roommate(s) before buying or ordering a refrigerator for your room.

Linens

Residence hall beds are extra-long, and XL twin sheets fit best. Residential Life Student Leadership has partnered with On Campus Marketing (OCM) to make sure our students have an easy, affordable way to purchase bedding and campus living needs. Please visit On Campus Marketing for more information and to place an order.
Quarterly statements are emailed about a month before you move in. Billing for housing/dining and tuition are completely separate. Housing and dining payments should always be made directly to Housing & Food Services (HFS), never to the tuition account. You can pay online, by mail, in person or with financial aid.

PAY ONLINE WITH A U.S. CREDIT CARD OR DEBIT CARD
Pay online with a Visa or MasterCard. HFS does not charge a convenience charge for using a credit card or debit card online.

Log in as a resident to pay
Log in as a guest to pay
Pay without logging in

PAY ONLINE WITH AN INTERNATIONAL BANK ACCOUNT
HFS partners with Flywire to streamline the process for international payments. Flywire allows you to pay securely from most countries using your credit or debit card. With Flywire, you can pay in your local currency, select your preferred payment method, and benefit from competitive, discounted exchange rates.

Pay using Flywire (select the UW Seattle Housing and Dining Payment option)

PAY BY MAIL
The date your check is received in our office will be considered your payment date. If you choose to mail a check, please consider the amount of time it will take for it to arrive.

To submit a payment via check, write the UW student ID number and last name of the student you are paying on behalf of.

Please mail the check and a completed Check Remittance Form to:
University of Washington
Housing & Food Services
Financial Services Office
1045 NE Campus Parkway, Box 355607
Seattle, WA 98195-5607

PAY IN PERSON
You may make payments by check or cash at the Student Services Office, in 210 Land- er Hall, Monday–Friday, 8:30 a.m.–4:30 p.m. We can only accept cash payments up to $500.

PAY WITH FINANCIAL AID
Before the start of each quarter, HFS will submit charges directly to your financial aid/ tuition account for electronic transfer of any available funds to your HFS account. If you don't have any or enough aid to cover the entire HFS bill, use one of the methods above to pay the remaining balance.

Quarterly dining funds will be deposited for use on the official move-in day even if you have not yet paid your quarterly charges.
Email communication

You are responsible for reading the information sent to your mailbox, posted on your room door, and/or sent by electronic communication to your UW email account by HFS. HFS will send most correspondence to applicants and residents via their UW email accounts. Please note that if you forward your UW email to a different account, it may be filtered, refused or treated as spam. HFS is not responsible for emails not received. To ensure delivery of emails from HFS to your email inbox, add hfsinfo@uw.edu, deskservices@hfs.washington.edu and wrproc@hfs.uw.edu to your email address book or list of approved senders.

Preventing bedbugs

Bedbugs have become a common problem throughout the United States, and the UW campus is not immune to this concern. While bedbugs are not known to spread disease and pose little risk to humans, HFS takes a proactive approach in addressing pest concerns to ensure high-quality living environments for residents. Here are some precautions you can take before you move in that will reduce the risk of bringing in bedbugs:

- Do not bring secondhand furniture. You don’t have much room to bring large- or medium-sized furniture, and if it hasn’t been inspected for bedbugs, you shouldn’t bring it into the residence hall.
- Wash and dry clothing on high heat when traveling and wash bed linens weekly.
- Before booking hotels, ask if they are having or have had any bedbug infestations recently. If yes, try to book at a hotel that hasn’t. If this isn’t an option, ask for a room as far away from the infested rooms as possible. Bedbugs can easily travel to neighboring rooms and even into the room directly above, so make sure your room is distant.

Obtain personal property insurance

You are encouraged to insure your personal belongings. Check with your family’s insurance policy to see if your possessions are covered under that policy or if you can get renters insurance added. If not, you may wish to purchase insurance offered by an independent company.

Dining options

To ensure that you have chosen a Dining Level that meets your needs, review the information about the Dining Account in the Residential Dining Guide.

- After you are assigned, you may change to a higher Dining Level at any time. You will receive the incentive for that quarter when you make the change.
- You may change to a lower Dining Level for an upcoming quarter by making your request before the change deadlines shown:
  - Autumn quarter by August 31, 2019
  - Winter quarter by November 30, 2019
  - Spring quarter by February 28, 2020

With Dining Levels 1–6, you will be eligible to receive a free drink each time you visit the residential dining areas, Local Point and Center Table, offering a significant savings to overall meal costs.

Authorize release of your information (FERPA)

The Family Education Right and Privacy Act (FERPA) prevents us from releasing your information, including how much you owe on your housing account, to anyone other than yourself without your authorization. You may authorize HFS to release information about your housing account (e.g., to your parents/guardians) by supplying their names on your HFS student profile.

Note: HFS will not release room numbers to any unauthorized person including friends, parents and relatives.
Shipping items prior to Move-in

Packages can be sent to your residential community up to seven days prior to your scheduled move-in. Please see the Residence Hall addresses table to determine your mailing address. Please consider that the residence halls will receive thousands of packages around move-in. Bringing items with you when you move in will help you avoid the lines and waiting associated with package pickup.

You will receive a notification to your UW email from HFS Desk Services when your front desk receives your package. Please make sure to add deskservices@hfs.washington.edu as an accepted sender in your email. Upon move-in, any packages that were not previously delivered to your room will be available for pickup at your residence hall's front desk. Please see the Residence Hall front desks table to determine your front desk.

Receiving mail

West Campus/Lander Desk Mail (letters, not packages) will be delivered by front desk staff into your assigned mailbox within 24 hours of receipt. You will not receive notification that mail has been placed in your mailbox. It is your responsibility to check your mailbox regularly. Please be aware that mail is typically not trackable in any way unless sent via a trackable service such as USPS Priority, Express Mail or certified mail.

North Campus/Willow Desk Letter mail will typically be processed within 24 hours of receipt by the Willow Desk. Letter mail is scanned using our package tracking software for North Campus residents, and an email notification will be sent to your UW email.

Picking up letter mail

If you have letter mail, you will need to bring your Husky Card or other photo ID to the Willow Desk. Present your ID to the Desk Services Representative and they will retrieve your mail and have you sign for delivery. Please be aware that the number assigned to your mail in the email notification is for front desk purposes and is not a tracking number in any way.

Transportation and parking options

There are a lot of ways to get around campus and the city.

The U-PASS Program—Using public transportation is an easy and wonderful way to get around campus and the city. UW students receive all the benefits of the U-Pass.

Bicycles—Many students prefer to bring their bicycles to campus. Bike storage is available in and around the buildings. Register your bike with the UW Police Department (UWPD) and learn how to keep it safe.

Car and motorcycle parking—A limited number of parking spaces on campus are reserved for residential students. If you must bring a vehicle to campus, you may apply for a parking space with the UW Transportation Services Office.
UW students are issued a UW identification card (Husky Card), which has many uses including building access and library privileges. It is also the card you use to access your Dining Account funds. If you don’t get your Husky Card during your Advising & Orientation session, you will need to get it from the Husky Card Account & ID Center during regular business hours.

A separate account, called the Husky Card Account, will have a $36 available balance when you move in, which is automatically renewed at the beginning of each quarter. You, your parents or anyone who knows your student number may add money to your Husky Card Account at any time. Money in this account may be used in the residence hall laundry facilities, at the University Book Store, for on-campus parking, and as a backup in case you run out of Dining Account funds. Husky Card Account funds do not expire and are fully refundable upon request.

YOUR RESIDENTIAL HUSKY EXPERIENCE

We’ve said it before, but it’s super important, so we’ll say it again: between classes, study, friends and activities, there are dozens of places you’ll be throughout your day. Whether or not you got your first choice of room or roommate, your Husky experience can be rich and fulfilling. Resident Advisers (RAs), student staff members in your community, and Resident Directors (RDs), the building managers, can be great resources for you as you transition into your new residential community and begin exploring. Social and learning opportunities abound, and you can start planning your experience now. Here are some tips to help.

Living with roommates

It is important to begin communicating with your roommates early and often. Coordinating with your roommates about items to bring to the room and other things can make the transition process much smoother.

It is also important to begin thinking about boundaries and logistics as you prepare to move into your residential community. Your RA will provide you and your roommates with a Roommate Agreement upon move-in to help you establish expectations; they will keep it for reference, and it even can be amended throughout the academic year.

Living in a community

Living on campus offers you a unique and exciting opportunity to learn about people, their cultures and lifestyles. Share your experiences with others; there are few times in our lives when we have the chance to live closely with so many different people.

Good communication

Good communication is the basis for positive relationships, especially with people who live in the same room or community. Talking with your roommates about your communication habits will help you develop and sustain good relationships. Talk about your expectations of one another right away. It is important that you agree on how you will live together. Don’t wait until conflict arises to begin talking about how you want to share the room.

Ask for assistance

If you need help solving a problem involving your roommates, neighbors or clustermates, you can talk to your RA or RD. They will assist you in finding a solution on your own or, if necessary, will intervene when a situation cannot be resolved by dialogue and communication.

Privacy and safety

Resident safety is one of the UW’s highest priorities. Our safety policy was developed in conjunction with UW regulations and Washington State statutes regarding student privacy. HFS will not, under any circumstances, release room numbers or telephone numbers to any unauthorized person including friends, parents and relatives. Although this policy may seem inconvenient at times, it provides residents protection and a secure living environment within the UW. We encourage students to make sure their families and friends have their address, as well as their room and telephone numbers.
DIVERSITY AND INCLUSION

You have decided to join a new community, one that values the diversity of its members. With more than 7,500 students, the on-campus residential community boasts an array of values, beliefs, perspectives and abilities. This rich diversity is one of the reasons living in residence is such a valuable and worthwhile experience.

HFS strives to create an environment of mutual respect and inclusion. In addition to offering many programs and services that support this goal, HFS works collaboratively with numerous offices on campus to advise and support our work and our students including the Office of Minority Affairs & Diversity, the Ethnic Cultural Center/Theatre, the UW Women’s Center, Hillel at the UW, the Office of International Education, the Q Center, the Foundation for International Understanding Through Students (FIUTS), and Disability Resources for Students.

Whether it is through our collaboration with other offices, special event programming in the residential communities or a social on your floor, HFS staff strive to ensure that residents get to know each other and gain a better understanding of others. We ask that you do your part by respecting others’ traditions and beliefs.

Everyone who chooses to live in or visit our residential communities has their own beliefs and must understand that acts that denigrate an individual’s national origin, race, gender, gender expression, sexual orientation, heritage, culture, religion, disability or age have no place in our communities. Strive to understand the individual differences of those around you, especially your roommates and neighbors. As you engage in daily activities and interactions, challenge yourself to learn from others. Give others the respect and tolerance that you desire.

If you become aware of any situation or incident where this community standard of mutual respect has been violated, please discuss it with a Residential Life staff member. You may wish to talk with a staff member about the following circumstances: homophobic comments, ethnic or racial slurs, any action or situation involving physical or mental abuse, threats to a person’s health or welfare, and offensive displays and pranks. Though some of these acts may be subtle in nature, it is important that staff members are made aware so they can appropriately address the situation. You may wish to contact your RA or speak to your RD in your Residential Life Office (Monday–Friday, 1–6 p.m. or by appointment). All communications will be handled with sensitivity and discretion.

Setting this standard for our residential community and having high expectations for our residents ensures that students can have a productive, meaningful and personally rewarding experience while living on campus.
Ultimately, it is up to all of us to take positive action to reduce our impact on the environment. With your help, the UW and HFS are working to create a culture of sustainability. Students living in HFS residential communities are encouraged to participate in sustainable practices, reducing both their carbon footprint and their day-to-day environmental impact.

HFS works hard to be ecologically responsible, and you have an important role to play. Consider the following:

- Carefully assess what you need to bring, and talk to your roommates about what can be shared.
- If possible, leave your car at home. Students and staff bike, walk and take the bus, and the U-PASS is the best transportation deal in Seattle!
- Choose ENERGY STAR-certified products to ensure energy efficiency when purchasing appliances, lighting and electronics.
- Use LED lightbulbs in your lamps and task lights.
- Carry a reusable mug for coffee. Many merchants, including campus cafés and espresso bars, offer a discount to customers who have their own cups.
- The UW campus greatly values composting and recycling so it is important to understand how to compost and recycle when living in HFS residential communities.
- If you want to get more involved with sustainability on campus, check out Students Expressing Environmental Dedication (SEED).

Trash, recycling and compost

Each building has designated locations for waste. During move-in, signage will guide you to these areas. At the UW, waste is separated into trash, recycling and compost streams. Cardboard boxes should be broken down, flattened, and placed in labeled dumpsters or on the floor of your trash and recycling room.
There are many amenities to use and activities to participate in as soon as you move onto campus. Get to know them now so you can be plugged in before classes even start!

Area 01 Community Center

Area 01, in Maple Hall, is a community-focused interdisciplinary learning destination featuring music and video labs and a gaming area. Area 01 even has a Dabble Lab, a space for creative exploration including 3-D printing, laser cutting and more. Sign up for classes on their website.

McCarty Innovation Learning Lab (MILL)

The MILL, in McCarty Hall, is a hands-on workspace where the UW community comes together, both formally and informally, to imagine, discover, innovate and responsibly create. The MILL features state-of-the-art equipment and technology such as 3-D printers, vinyl printers and cutters, UV printers, laser cutters, sewing machines and more. The MILL will also offer workshops.

Fitness Center West

Located in Elm Hall, Fitness Center West is a large facility right in the residential community. Open to HFS residential students only, this facility offers cardio equipment, free weights and strength equipment. Classes including yoga and circuit training are available quarterly in the two large fitness studios.

Rick’s Café

Ricks Café, located in the Madrona Hall Learning Resource Center North, is a student run ice cream shop. Rick’s is open to all HFS residential students and you can get ice cream for just $1! Rick’s Café is open in the evenings most days of the week.

RPB events

The Residential Programming Board (RPB) plans 26 fun, social programs each quarter to get residents out of their rooms and connecting with the people around them. From Midnight Carnival to movie screenings to cooking workshops, RPB events always offer a way to unplug from classes and have fun with your friends! Follow RPB on Facebook and Instagram now to learn about upcoming events.

REP Events

The Residence Education Programming (REP) team plans events that are hosted right in your residential community! These programs focus on educational aspects such as wellness, diversity and academic success. Make sure to check out REP on Facebook so you can be in the know of when events are coming up in your community.
GET INVOLVED IN YOUR RESIDENTIAL COMMUNITY

You go to class. You study. You make connections and have fun with new friends in your residential community. You attend programs and activities that are organized by student leaders or your RA. Why not get involved in your residential community to further enhance your Husky Experience?

Benefits of being involved
• Meet new people
• Gain leadership skills and experience
• Expand your resume (Companies and organizations are looking for people who have academic knowledge as well as leadership skills and experience.)
• Create yourself (College years are a time for exploration.)
• Test yourself (Move beyond your comfort zone.)

How to get involved
Apply for positions on your Community Council starting now! There are many different opportunities depending on your interest and availability:
• Become a member of the Executive Board
• Join or chair a committee to put on residence hall events
• Voice your opinions about living and dining in HFS facilities
• Be a part of making changes that improve the quality of life in HFS residential communities

To apply for a Community Council position fill out an online application now!

Apply to work for HFS
Our Desk Services, UW Dining and Residential Life units have job opportunities for students throughout campus. Students are paid an hourly wage and receive valuable training and experience. Positions fill quickly, so apply now!

The UW is an equal opportunity, affirmative action employer.
Welcome Guide / Residence Halls

THE MOVE-IN PROCESS

Before you arrive

• If you want to learn more about how move-in works—watch the Move-In video
• Refer to your assignment email for your specific check-in time and location

When you arrive

Have your Husky Card (UW student ID card) ready. Your Husky Card allows you access to your community and HFS dining facilities and amenities. You will be asked to present it at check-in. You will be able to check in by showing another form of photo ID; however, the Husky Card is your key card for access to your residence hall. If you don’t receive your card before you move in, you will need to obtain one from the Husky Card Account & ID Center, located on the ground floor of the Odegaard Undergraduate Library. Office hours are Monday–Friday, 8 a.m.–5 p.m. You must present photo ID to check in. Friends or family cannot check-in and receive keys on your behalf.

You will receive your keys. After your identity and assignment information have been confirmed, you will be given your room and mailbox keys. The keys are assigned to you uniquely. Avoid switching keys with a roommate. Report lost or stolen keys to your front desk immediately. Once you have received your keys, you may begin moving into your room.

Red Emergency Backpack—New residents are provided with a red emergency backpack when they first check into their residential room. This comprehensive kit includes water, food rations and other emergency supplies. The contents will remain viable for several years. If you have lived on campus in the past, please bring your red emergency backpack when you return to campus. Please keep your red emergency backpack for as long as you live with us.

Room Condition Report (RCR)—You should inspect your room/cluster upon arrival and use the RCR found in your room to note any existing damage to furniture, surfaces or fixtures, or items missing from your room or cluster. Return your RCR to your RA or your Residential Life Office within one week of your arrival. When you vacate, housing staff will use the report to determine if there are additional damages or missing items. Any damages or missing items not declared on the report will be your responsibility and will be charged to your account when you vacate.

After you check in

Check your mailbox and pick up packages. After you have checked in, received your keys and unloaded your belongings, find your mailbox, check your mail and pick up any packages you sent ahead of time. Bring your Husky Card with you, as photo ID is required every time you pick up a package.

Hook up your computer (optional). Personal computers connected to the UW network must be kept free of viruses, use firewalls, and be patched with updated software. Compromised or infected computers will be denied network access. If you have any problems with access, call the UW IT Service Center at 206-221-5000 or email help@uw.edu.

Hook up your TV to HuskyTV (optional). HuskyTV is a satellite package arranged through the UW. If you have a cable-ready TV, all you need is a coaxial cable to hook up to your HuskyTV lineup. You must also program your TV to receive the cable signal. If you have any problems with access, please call the Facilities Services and Planning Office at 206-543-4017. You can also access television services through UW Philo and HBO Go which are provided to you free of charge as a resident. Visit uw.philo.com and hbogo.com for more information.

Download the Pac-12 Live app (optional). View live events featuring UW coverage in football, men’s and women’s basketball and Olympic sports on the Pac-12 Network. For FREE access, follow these simple steps:
1. Download the Pac-12 Now app or go to Pac-12.com/live
2. Select Networks, then Washington, then select UW HuskyTV as your TV provider Enter your UW NetID and password, follow the instructions and enjoy!
Official Move-In is 7:30 am–4:30 pm on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, September 18, 19, and 20, 2019. You will find your one-hour move-in appointment with your assignment information. If you can’t move in during your assigned time, you may change your appointment online, or you may move in during front desk hours (see below).

ARRIVING IN A PRIVATE VEHICLE

• Print out and complete the Vehicle Information Placard at the end of this guide.
• Drive to your check-in waiting area using the directions below.
• Wait in your car until you are directed to your building to get your keys and unload your car. A student volunteer will be available to assist with loading and unloading.

Early arrival for autumn quarter
If you need to be on campus before September 19 for an academic reason, you may request early arrival housing. If your request is approved, move-in information will be provided via email with your early arrival assignment information. When you arrive on campus, you will check in and pick up your keys at your residence hall front desk.
Part 1: Preparing to move in
- Read and print your move-in email
- Take a virtual tour of your room
- Contact your roommates
- Decide what to bring
- Review the Dining Level Guide, and change your Dining Level selection if desired by August 31
- Pay for housing by October 11
- Ship packages no more than one week before you move in
- Watch the Move-In video

Part 2: Moving in
- Arrive at your designated parking lot during your move-in time
- Receive a flag from a staff member, and proceed to your building when directed
- Check in and pick up your keys (You'll need your Husky Card or other photo ID.)
- Unload your car (One person must stay with the car at all times.)
- Park the car away from the unload area (Payment is required at any UW gatehouse.)
- Register for Dawg Daze in your building's lobby

Part 3: Settling in
- Complete your RCR and return it to your RA or Residential Life Office within one week of your arrival
- Hook up your computer
- Hook up your TV
- Register your bike and other valuables with the UWPD
- Like HFS on Facebook
- Participate in Dawg Daze events
- Attend your first floor meeting (Your RA will tell you when and where it is.)
- Get involved in your community
